CELINA — Celina Aluminum Precision Technology Inc. President Yukata Ito shared his memories of playing baseball as he helped another generation of players realize their dreams.

Thanks to the generosity of Ito, vice president Tom Rable and CAPT, high school and collegiate athletes will have improved facilities when they return for this year's season.

CAPT on Monday presented Celina baseball player Ethan Piper and head coach Andy Mikesell with a $20,000 check to help repair and upgrade Montgomery Field after the Nov. 5 tornado left the facility in shambles.

"I was a baseball player," Ito said. "I love the game. When I saw the picture (of the damage), I was disappointed. So we talked about what we could do to help, and then we decided to donate. We are existing in this community, so of course I believe it's one of our duties to support the community."

Council OKs funds for bleachers

CELINA — Safety service director Tom Hitchcock can proceed with awarding a $25,392 contract to install handicapped-accessible bleachers at Montgomery Field after city council action on Monday night.

Council members convened for a special meeting to approve two ordinances as emergency measures after suspending the three-public readings rule. Not enough members attended last week's regular meeting to proceed with the expedited plan.

The CAPT Baseball Complex at Montgomery Field will be the new baseball home for Celina High School, Wright State-Lake Campus and the Grand Lake Mariners.

"We knew we were going to need one more big push to help get it done, and we got that through the generosity of CAPT," Mikesell said. "They have undoubtedly become a major part of our community with everything they have done for Celina kids. It's just awesome. Once you see it, it'll be a lot more realistic. You know it'll have a big
